

SOCIETY AND OTHER INTERESTS OF WOMEN

SOCIETY

The marriage of Miss Wanda Seeman, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Henry I. Seeman of Denver, Colo., and John Irwin Lippincott, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Lippincott of the First Presbyterian church, will take place at the home of the bride's parents at Denver at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. Lippincott in the presence of 40 friends and relatives. Both young people were graduated from the university of Michigan at Ann Arbor, in 1914, and met while attending school there. Miss Seeman is a member of the Gamma Phi sorority and Mr. Lippincott belongs to the Delta Upsilon fraternity. They will reside in this city. Rev. and Mrs. Lippincott and Miss Annabelle Lippincott of this city have gone to attend.

Miss A. Smith, 620 Pennsylvania av., pleasantly entertained a number of friends Tuesday evening at a dinner party. Covers were laid for 14 guests and a cluster of roses and carnations centered the table. The evening was spent in games, music and dancing, followed by an Orpheum theater party.

Joseph Crepeau, 317 N. Hill st., delightfully entertained at a stag party Tuesday evening at his home in compliment to Alfred DeLorimier of Havre, Mont., who is now a law student at the university of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and has been spending the holidays at the Crepeau home. The guests numbered 20. Cards featured the evening, Edward Schelbuh winning the favor in the contest and Mr. DeLorimier the guest prize. Toward the close of the evening a two-course supper was served followed by a smoker and a musical program, consisting of several solos by Joseph Beckerich and Mr. Crepeau. The house was tastefully decorated in keeping with the season with Christmas bells, holly and cut flowers. Mr. DeLorimier will remain over New Year's day and will then return to his studies at the university.

Complimenting Mrs. Charles Brewster of Gary, who is a guest of Mrs. S. W. Long, S. Taylor st., and Mrs. Mae Lauterburg, who is a guest of Mrs. Albert Thomas, Lincoln way E., Mrs. J. E. Campbell and Mrs. Dan Long entertained very pleasantly with a card party Wednesday afternoon at the home of the former, S. Michigan st. Cards, contests and music featured the afternoon and the guests filled five tables. Holly and Christmas bells were used in the decorations featuring the color motif of red and green. Toward the close of the afternoon refreshments were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cunningham of Lafayette, Ind., returned to their home Wednesday after visiting with the former's sister, Mrs. Fred Elbel, 1008 W. Colfax av. Miss Emma Cunningham, another sister of Mrs. Elbel, will remain here for a few days. They came to attend the Christmas dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elbel, whose other guests were 16 members of the Elbel family. Mrs. S. W. Bauman of Chicago was also an out-of-town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Josephus Moomaw, 729 Diamond av., pleasantly entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening. Miss Irene Sadler, who is attending the Oberlin conservatory of music at Gateville, Texas, and has been spending her vacation in this city, was the honor guest. Covers were laid for eight. The decorations were in red and green and consisted of holly and Christmas bells. Miss Sadler will return to her studies the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Vernon C. Hastings entertained members of the Tuesday Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home, 1026 Woodward av. The next meeting of the club will be on Jan. 11, with Mrs. Rudolph H. Horst, 224 Marquette av.

Miss Barbara Zellar of Terre Haute, who is visiting the Misses Ada and Mildred Stels, was honored guest last evening at a 500 party at the home of Miss Margaret and Miss Rosetta McHenry, 1015 Lincoln way S. There were four tables at cards and novel favors were presented. A luncheon was served from the committee for the evening.

Auten Post No. 15, W. R. C., entertained with its annual banquet and Christmas tree entertainment Tuesday evening in the old court house. A delightful banquet was served at 6:30 o'clock, after which gifts from a beautifully decorated tree were distributed to the members by Mrs. Dora Casey, who acted as Santa Claus. There were 85 members present. The corps will install officers at the next meeting Tuesday evening, Jan. 4.

A sleigh ride party to Frank Bauer's, Temple st. rd., was given last evening by a company of 24 young people. The event was planned by the senior men of the high school as a compliment to the senior young women. A supper was enjoyed during a pleasant evening.

The Lucky Thirteen club members will be entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. Joseph Reiter, 215 1/2 S. Scott st.

Black and White Velvet and Fur

One of the many smart outfits which may easily be adapted for skating purposes. In this, white and black velvet and deep bands of seal are used. Over a full short skirt of black velvet, a coat of the white velvet falls to the knees. A crushed girdle of self material confines the fullness at the waistline. A muff collar, deep cuffs and border of seal fur affords rich trimming.

The small tables during the evening, and the decorations were in Christmas greens and reds and were unusually pretty. Thursday evening Miss Zellar will be entertained with a theater party at which Miss Margaret Sylvanus will be hostess.

The monthly meeting of the north section of the Woman's league of the First Methodist church was held in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. S. Metzler, Mrs. C. J. Whitmer, Mrs. Norman Kelb, Mrs. Dan Pyle, Mrs. J. Q. Ames, Mrs. J. D. Kindig, Miss Grace Hunstman and Miss Vivian Hunstman were the hostesses for the day. A short program following the business time consisted of readings by Mrs. W. G. Wegner and Mrs. George Weatherwax of Chicago. Vocal numbers were contributed by Mrs. Weatherwax and Harry Barnes accompanied by Mrs. Chester Adams of Goshen. There were 64 members and guests present. Refreshments were served during the social hour. Another meeting of the society will be held Jan. 25, the place to be announced later.

One of the most attractive of last evening's events was the Christmas dancing party given by the Married Folks' Dancing club in the American hall to 45 couples, including a number of young people from out of town. The Artia orchestra played the program of dances, and refreshments were served during the intermission. The Christmas idea was carried out in the decorations of the hall with bells and streamers of green and white festooned about the lights. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Humble, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey H. Ginz, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Houghton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Warner made up the committee for the evening.

For the Cookbook

LIVER AND RICE.

Materials—Lamb's liver, well-boiled rice, salt, cayenne, chopped parsley, butter.

Utensils—Chopping tray, knife, cup, spoon, buttered baking dish. Directions—Boil the liver until tender, chop. Put in the baking dish alternate layers of rice and liver, season well with salt, pepper and parsley. Have the top layer rice and moisten the whole with melted butter. Brown in the oven.

CREAM OF BEET SOUP.

Materials—One cup beets well cooked, one pint mutton stock, two teaspoons flour, two teaspoons butter, one pint milk, salt, pepper.

Utensils—Two sauce pans, fine sieve, spoon, cup. Directions—Cut the beets fine and simmer in the mutton stock 15 minutes. Rub through sieve. Mix the butter and flour and add to the mutton stock and beet puree. Heat thoroughly, stirring constantly and add to a pint of hot milk; season with salt and pepper.

COFFEE CHARLOTTE RUSSE.

Materials—One-fourth box gelatin, one-fourth cup cold black coffee, three-fourths cup hot coffee, one cup heavy cream, three-fourths cup sugar, yolks three eggs, two tablespoons sugar, ladyfingers.

Utensils—Bowls, sauce pan, egg-beater, cup, spoon. Directions—Soak gelatin in cold coffee 10 minutes. Caramelize three-fourths cup sugar, add three-fourths cup hot coffee, and let stand to dissolve. Beat the yolks of eggs, add two tablespoons sugar and cook in hot coffee mixture until egg thickens. Add the soaked gelatin, when dissolved; chill until mixture begins to thicken, then fold in cream whipped stiff. Put in a mold lined with ladyfingers and chill thoroughly.

TUNA FISH SALAD.

Materials—One tablespoon gelatin, one-fourth cup water, three-fourths cup cooked salad dressing, one cup flaked tuna fish, one-half cup chopped celery, one-half green pepper, shredded fine, two tablespoons chopped olives, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons vinegar.

Utensils—Two bowls, knife, spoon. Directions—Soak gelatin in two tablespoons cold water 10 minutes, then dissolve in two tablespoons hot water. If necessary, set cup in hot water. Add dissolved gelatin to salad dressing. When it begins to thicken, add fish, celery, pepper, olives, and seasonings. Mold and chill. Remove from mold and garnish with one or two lettuce leaves, pickles, celery tips and rings of pimientos.

POTATO DRESSING.

Materials—Two cups hot rice potatoes, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth onion chopped fine, two tablespoons butter, one-half cup soft stale bread, yolk one egg.

Utensils—Mixing bowl, cup, spoon. Directions—Mix in order given, put into duck and roast. Domestic duck requires one to one-fourth hours; wild duck, 30 to 45 minutes.

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING.

Materials—One pound beef suet, one pound raisins, one pound currants, one pound seedless sultanas, one-half pound citron, one-fourth pound each orange and lemon peel, one pound flour, 10 cent loaf bread dried and ground, one pound sugar, 12 eggs, one small carrot grated, one nutmeg, one-half teaspoon allspice, one dessert spoonful salt, one quart bottle stock ale.

Utensils—Chopping tray and knife, meat grinder, eggbeater, cup, spoon, scales, mixing bowl, nutmeg grater, buttered molds or unbleached cotton cloth, well floured, grater. Directions—Chop suet, raisins, citron, orange and lemon peel, grind bread. Mix with the sugar, flour, salt, nutmeg, allspice and carrot; add suet, and add eggs, well beaten, and ale. Steam 10 hours. The English method is to put the pudding in a floured cheese cloth and boil four or five hours; but this is less certain than putting it into buttered molds and steaming.

SAUCE.

Materials—One cup sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch, one-tenth teaspoon salt, two cups boiling water, two tablespoons lemon juice, one-fourth cup brandy, yolks two eggs.

Utensils—Sauce pan, cup, spoon. Directions—Mix sugar, cornstarch, and salt. Add gradually, while stirring constantly, the water; boil five minutes; pour in egg yolks and cook one minute. Remove from fire, add lemon juice and brandy, grating or nutmeg.

Tea Table Talks

By May De Witt Talmage

SENSIBILITY, BLINDNESS.

Seated in the woods one day last summer I read that Helen Keller, blind from birth, has said: "I have walked with people whose eyes are full of light, but who see nothing in land, or sky, or sea. Nothing in city streets—nothing in books. It were better far to sail forever in the night of blindness, with sense, and feeling, and mind, than to be content with the mere act of seeing. The only lightless dark is the night of ignorance and insensibility."

Glancing up from my book it seemed as if a new world has been revealed to me. Before reading those lines I would have described that patch of woods as green. I had not noticed the myriads of tones and shades in the dark green of the pine trees, the patches of brown sand on the green grass, the deep grey color of the tree trunk around which a little brown chipmunk scurried on its way to the top of the tree. Neither had I noticed the brown plumage bird with its tail of yellow that was perched on the grey moss that covered the branch of a tree; the grey and yellow tones of the stones, the various shades of brown in the faded leaves which had caught the rays of the setting sun and reflected all the colors of the rainbow. The woods were full of color.

We might as well talk of the silence of the forest, when there is the murmur of the brook, the rustle of the leaves, the chirp of the cricket, the distant cry of crow, the bird singing its even song to its mate, the call to the cattle going home. Why, the woods are full of sound and color if we can only see and hear.

Yes, many of us are blind to the beauties of every day living, blind to the pictures in city life. We see shapes, we see colors, but we do not see shades. A while ago I looked out of my window. The lower sash was screened with a curtain shutting off from view the adjoining house tops. Only the sky line could be seen and the top stories of a big hotel with its grey colored turrets, and dorma windows, and green roof, that looked like a veritable castle in the air. I was disappointed against a patch of bright blue sky and piled high on either side were clouds, pink tinted, crimson, shining gold. It was a perfect riot of color, and seemed almost as if some master hand with the rainbow as a palette, in mad intoxication, had splashed all the colors into the billows of clouds that mingled and blended them without rhyme or reason.

Why dream and long for Italian sunsets, when we have such splendors just out of our windows which we can all see if we will only pull up the shades. But we are blind in insensibility. To us the world, like the woods, is just one shadesless tone.

"Eyes we have but we see not, ears we have but we hear not."
